Girls In Merger

You'd never guess who this pretty maid is! No, not in a hundred guesses. Looks like a very nice and charming young woman. Actually she's an all-star cast. In fewer words, this is a composite picture which has played New York photographer of stage and screen types, chosen to call "Screen type, 1932-1933." Oh yes, the superlatives merged here are Janet Gaynor, Clara Bow, Joan Bennett, Elissa Landi, Sally Eilers and Greta Garbo.

EXTENSION OF TRADE PACT TO DEC. 31 FAILS

Tariff Goes up as Two Nations Unable to Agree

OTTAWA, June 17.—The Franco-Canadian trade treaty terminated at midnight tonight. The department of external affairs announced yesterday that negotiations to have the treaty extended to the end of the year had failed.

The result is that the French tariff on many Canadian products will be greatly increased as they are transferred from the minimum of 85 cents a bushel, the French general tariff will be approximately $1.70 a bushel. This will give an advantage to the United States wheat, which is sold at 85 cents a bushel, the French general tariff will be approximately $1.70 a bushel. This will give an advantage to the United States wheat, which is sold at 85 cents a bushel, the French general tariff will be approximately $1.70 a bushel.

Canada is another product of which Canada exports considerable quantities. This country enjoyed an intermediate tariff of three cents a pound. It now goes up to five cents.

France also had substantial advantages under the treaty in the Canadian dairy, wines, champagne and certain textiles were particularly favored.

Premier R. B. Bennett will likely issue a statement on his return to Ottawa Friday. He will probably outline the efforts made by the country to continue the pact.

GOING ON SOMETIME

The alteration of the trade convention marks the failure of negotiations which have been going on for several weeks to reach a basis of agreement whereby the treaty could be continued until the end of the year. If this had been successful it had been hoped that a new permanent treaty could have been agreed upon which would have taken the place of the present one. The treaty now pending out of conference was negotiated between Canada and France in 1922.

The treaty provided that it could be terminated upon six months notice being given. It had many critics in this country particularly from representatives of the wine producing districts who contended that the tariff on wines from France under the agreement was less than the excise duties Canadian producers had to pay.

While no official explanation was given it is believed that due to the criticism of the wine producers and the fact that the treaty was claimed to have somewhat tilted the hands of this country in negotiating other trade pacts Canada gave notice at the time that it was ready to enter negotiations for a new pact. During the

Portlander Leads 400 On March

Here is W. W. Waters of Portland, Ore., "field marshal" of the "bonus army" of 400 World War veterans recruited at Portland and travelling by freight train and truck to Washington, D.C., to demand full and immediate payment of the bonus. After running into difficulties with railroad officials at Caseyville, Ill., the veterans were given transportation across Indiana in national guard trucks and promised the same conveyance across Ohio.

Last few weeks many cables have been exchanged with the hope of reaching an understanding, but without results.

HOPE FOR EXTENSION

The hope had been expressed if treaty would have been extended to the end of the year it would have given time to negotiate a new treaty after the results of the Imperial Economic conference were known. During the last calendar year Canada sold France goods to the value of $17,335,093 of which $12,664,407 was in agricultural products. Canada sold to French possessions approximately $4,000,000 during the same time. This does not include the $447,100 worth of Canadian liquor which went to St. Pierre and Miquelon.

France sold Canada in the last calendar year goods to the value of $4,135,021. The largest single items were agricultural and vegetable products which includes wheat, $2,826,246 and textiles, $1,052,099. Animal products totalled $1,059,024 and $1,059,024.

Champagne imports and all sparkling wines from France will be considerably affected.

SETTLEMENT BODY HEADED BY GANDIER

Unemployed Who Already Possess Land Will be Considered First

First consideration in the setting of selected unemployed on the land, will be given to those already possessing farms or with an easy access to holdings without financial outlay, Premier J. E. Brownlie on Friday in discussing the proposed Dominion-provincial-municipal settlement scheme.

The provincial committee to deal with the scheme is under the chairmanship of S. H. Gandier, former principal of the Clearbrook agricultural school.

Other members of the committee are E. L. Gray, provincial field crops commissioner; J. M. Verrey, head of the Dominion land settlement branch; W. T. Whitlaw, of the C.P.R. colonization branch; and Neil S. McGuire of the C.N.R. colonization branch.

MINISTERS NAMED

Hon. George Handley, minister of agriculture and health and Hon. Vernon W. Smith, minister of railways and telephones will be associated with the committee to sit at any conference dealing with formation of policy.

Applicants must first make application to municipal districts and names will be submitted to the committee through this channel.

The amount available for grant under the Dominion plan, agreement, namely $600, is to be considered as a maximum and each case will be dealt with on its merits.

No advance will be made in cash but the province will hold the money in trust, paying out as necessary.

Second consideration in the scheme will be given applicants who have no land.

The scheme is a three-way agreement, with Dominion, provincial and municipal governments each contributing one-third. The Dominion contribution will be non-renewable and the other two are at liberty to alter their direction as to this point.

There seems to be a feeling, said the Premier, "that this is a scheme of assisting unprosperous provincials and I wish to emphasize that this is not the case, but that the most rigid examination will be made of all applications to make sure there is a proper background for making a success of farm work."

highway near Morinville, has not yet been set, but is expected to be within the next few days.

Mrs. Nystrum is alleged to be in the driver's seat of a two-seater in question when it swerved and careened off the highway and overturned several times, pitching Anshutz through the top of the coach. It is also alleged that Anshutz matched the steering wheel in control of the car from her.

A coroner's jury, sitting on the inquest at Morinville on Wednesday, returned an open verdict.

They took off from McMurtry with mail for Fort Resolution and intermediate points on Wednesday, and continued on to Fort Rae on Thursday.

Conditions at Fort Rae are not known yet, it was stated by C. H. Pouch's Dundas, northern superintendent for Canadian Airways.

There is no way of sending out news fast from Fort Rae, but this condition will be remedied soon, as the planes carried the outfit for setting up a wireless station at Rae.

This station will be maintained and operated by Canadian Airways and a radio technician named Grimes went to the plane.

BROWN JACK IS STAKES WINNER

ASCOT, England, June 17.—For the fourth year in succession, a record unequalled in the great races of the English turf, Sir Harold Wernher's eight-year-old horse, Brown Jack, today won the Queen Alexandra Stakes, feature of the closing day at Royal Ascot.

Brown Jack was installed favorite and he raced to the finish, two lengths in front of C. W. Birkin's Brulee, who was six lengths in front of the French entry, La Tour d'Auvergne, owned by M. H. Count.

The betting was eight to 15 against the winner, second five to two, and third 20 to one. Sever ran. The Queen Alexandra Stakes were first run in 1881.

Sir Hugh Cassin-Owen's Comrades won the 1000 Guineas Stakes at Ascot, finishing four lengths in front of Lord Glenawley's Grandmaster, with Red Queen third, more length away. Fifteen ran. The betting was nine to five, 100 to eight and 100 to seven.

German Day To Be Held Again

At an enthusiastic meeting held in the rooms of the German club "Edelweiss," representing German-speaking people of Edmonton and district, it was decided to again stage a so-called "German day," to become an annual affair.

The committee in charge of arrangements plan to make this year's picnic bigger and better than ever. Prominent speakers, including the German consul, Dr. Seidenberg, will address the gathering in the native club German tent.

A full event of sports will be run by the athletic club "Jahn," well remembered by their skillful performance at the recent Chicago-Graids game, taking a leading and active part. Suitable prizes will be awarded.

An added attraction will be the exhibit of German handicrafts. The best of wonderful woodcarvings on display last year is well remembered favorably by many.

A band will enliven the occasion and entertain the gathering. We cordially invite one and all to attend and make July 31 next a never-to-be-forgotten day of enjoyment.

THE MANITOBA RESULTS

The result of the elections in Manitoba will be a severe disappointment to the Conservatives of that province, as it must be anything but welcome news to their party friends elsewhere.

For a year past the Opposition has conducted a very vigorous campaign against the Government. The party was excellently organized and well financed. It was favored by the hard times, and by the fact that it is twenty years since a Conservative Government has held power there. Colonel Ross, the Conservative leader, was confident of winning, and had a feeling certainty that they would make substantial gains.

Reports this morning give the Government 25 seats to 4 for the Opposition, and while these reports were incomplete the return of the Government by a majority over all other groups is conceded.

Against the economy, money and circumstances which favored the Opposition, the strongest factor on the Government's side was the splendid campaign put up on their behalf by the Winnipeg Free Press. To that paper a large share of the credit for its success is due. The election was in a special sense a battle of a newspaper against an organization, and the newspaper won.

AT LAUSANNE

The repatriation conference that opened yesterday at Lausanne is of more immediate and practical importance than the disarmament conference that has been in session for many months past.

The disarmament conference had little enough prospect of doing any real disarming; and if it failed the nations they carry on in conditions not necessarily worse than they have been.

The repatriation conference has a better chance of success. For the reason that Germany does not intend to pay costs, but to be repatriated, in hope that something may be done there. The conference is of more practical importance than the disarmament conference, and it will be strange if nothing results from it.

They meet also in the hope that reparations and international debts are put in the way for settlement there is little prospect of an improvement in the world's economic affairs and a strong possibility that they will get worse.

Europe, it has been said for many months, is on the verge of an economic collapse. The attention of the world will be centered on Lausanne, in hope that something may be done there to avert the calamity and put conditions on the road to betterment.

A COMMON CURRENCY

General McRae, Senator for British Columbia, urges an Empire currency based on gold, and accepted everywhere
in the Empire at par.

The subject is bound to be discussed at the coming economic conference. And the benefits of a common currency in facilitating trade are so obvious that it will be strange if nothing results from it.

But the currency may not be based on gold. With the exception of Canada and South Africa, the nations in the Empire are not on a gold standard, and it is not at all apparent that those which have adopted the gold standard are anxious to return to it. Britain certainly is not.

More people in the Empire do business with silver than with gold. They are not so anxious to return to gold as the subject. And the advocates of a "managed currency," not based on gold but on trade requirements, are very active at the moment. The Empire has some notable recruits. Hon. Reginald McKenna among them.

Whatever the basis, an Empire currency would have the advantage that people in any of the Dominions would know, in money terms with which they were familiar, what they must pay for goods in any other Dominion or Colony. That would stimulate trade.

MARONED

Ottawa has decided that the apostles of mudism are to be placed on an island in the Gulf of Georgia. That is every way better than locking them up in the penitentiaries, and is perhaps the best that can be done with them, and for the denigrated beings. Provided the island is so situated that they will be a nuisance to neighbors.

Provide also that the island be capable of being taken in. In that event the exiles will be able to support themselves, which they should be made to do. The taxpayers have been put to expense enough in their case, and will in any case have to provide the money to build houses for them and maintain guards to see that they stay on their island. They should be given a chance to feed themselves and made to do so.

Marooning the apostles may not be of course settle the question of what is to be done with them eventually. That they will change their peculiar notions, and still more peculiar ways of expressing their notions, is doubtful.
Whatever their faults, and whatever may be thought of their religious delusions, they at least cling to their beliefs with tenacity.

But three years of their absence will be a welcome truce for the people of the coast, and a breathing-time in which to think up something to do with them
when the term is up.

THINGS HAVE CHANGED

German commentators explain that the Brüning cabinet had to resign because it was too autocratic for President Hindenburg. Perhaps not too autocratic for his taste, or his opinion of what would be good for the country, but more so likely to be thought of as too autocratic.

Hindenburg was trained under the old order of things, when it was the business of a government to issue orders and the business of the public to obey them. He probably thinks the country would be better governed by ministers educated in the old order of things than by politicians who may happen for the moment to gain the popular fancy.

But, whatever he thinks of it, Hindenburg recognizes that the times have changed, and that for better or worse the German voters now have both the power and will to govern themselves. The growing strength of the Hitler party has not been unhelped by him, nor its significance of a new and resolute intention on the part of the German people to set their own course.

That recognition will have to be made also by Germany's former enemies. If Brüning could not dictate to Germany, neither will foreign dictation be accepted whether in respect to reparations or armaments. What Germany will do, or rather than what its neighbors and creditors desire, is the question.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

A good deal of barley was sown last week, and seeding is about ended. On high land crops are looking well, but are held back everywhere by dampness and lack of heat.

Meats fine. Houghton, Watt and McKernan, ranchers at Whitford and Fernie, are building a thirty-five ton saw at Walter's yard and expect to get away with a load of supplies this week.

and expressly declares that any provision of the constitu-

be null and void. The constitution that embodies connection

Friday Night

By Edgar A. Gault

On Sunday night at home we stay,
For Sunday begins the week again.
On Monday night is the rule
I must prepare myself for school.

They send me off to bed at eight,
For children mustn't stay up late.

On Tuesday all they say is "No!"
When out with them I beg to go.
In school to do their very best,
All little girls must get their rest.

And then when Wednesday morning comes
I sit at home and wait my turn.

I can't go out on Thursday night,
For daddy says it isn't right.
If there's a show I want to see
I must wait till Friday evening.

But mother tells me that we must wait
All to go to see Friday night.

So all week long I work on sums
And wait till Friday evening comes.
Then after supper off we go
To see a moving picture show.

And round about us everywhere
I see a lot of children there.

PROPHETS OF RUIN

Last December Sir George Paish made our flesh creep by telling us, in a lecture, that the world was coming to ruin in some way by February the world would go amiss. The old proverb world didn't fix up war debts or reparations of much of anything else, and it refused to go amiss, how we have heard of other experts telling us that unless the coming Lausanne Conference does succeed we'll all go bust for sure. Well, our own humble speculation is that Lausanne will do nothing and that the world won't collapse. The world is extraordinarily tough. Somehow or other it possesses intangible assets that economists and experts fail to reckon with, so that the world will when it seems to be on the verge of ruin something or somebody comes along to save it, or to give it a few more years of grace—Ottawa Journal.

An economist urges a new mental standard for the world's currency. A new mental standard might help too—Mani-

Horscope

By Mary Blake

If June 18th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a.m. to 11:45 a.m., from 1:45 p.m. to 5 p.m., and from 8 p.m.
to 10:15 p.m. The change periods are from 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., and from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

A tranquil period is not foreseen for Saturday, June 18th, and probable contention with friends or associates—outside the home—may spoil all possible enjoyment of the day. More play and less work is advised, as neither hand or mind will be in shape for profitable work.

Mothers bear children on this June 18th will find their offspring too self-willed and set of purpose to expect living or affectionate nature.
They will be high-spirited, and will require careful handling. They will have alert, comprehensive minds, and will be fond of sports and games.

Born on June 18th, you are a very temperant person, showing anger, pride, and amusement too plainly for any concealment of your feelings. Even when you try to make your likes or dislikes, your face or manner is sure to "give the show away."
You are given to taking unaccountable antipathies.
You do not take advice well, and if forced upon you,
your inborn contrariness drives you to the opposite.
The only way to handle you is to give you your head, although having your own way will not always be to your good.

To be perpetually in the company of other people irks you very much, and a certain amount of privacy is as essential to you as sleep for the sake of both your health and peace of mind. If you have books you do not ask for people. Contentment is something which you will scarcely find,

You are a German poet, in the words—"There

HOW TREES GROW FISH

By Charles Hayden, president, Canadian Fish and Game Protective Association, managing editor of the Calgary Herald.

"Trees Grow Fish" appears to confound the processes of nature, but to the sportsmen of Canada it is almost literally true. The angler and the hunter of both your "woods" and water are well versed in the life conservation that the most ardent forestist is not anxious to preserve the trees of the woodland areas that are the organized sportsmen. We know that "trees grow fish" is a truism, and it is interdependent and the forest is a source of much enjoyment of the fisherman as of the logger.

This year the Government forests in fire burning are being reduced in several of the provinces and somebody must take the place of this protective force. Since 91 per cent of all fires are started by human agency, the forest resources must be destroyed, and the forests must be destroyed to be avoided. It can plow the forest to the
of many hundreds of anglers during the spring months, and I would like to be able to make a like plow for the thousands of anglers in all parts of Canada who preserve the forest.

It is identical with the preservation of angling privi-

SOMEONE NEEDED TO ANSWER THIS

DEAR MISS DIX—I am 19 years old and have been married more than two years to a man fifteen years older than myself. My husband is a good man. I have no fault to find with him, but I am tired of married life. I want to be free to do as I please and to go where and with whom I like. Please advise me what to do—MISS L. V.

Answer:—Your problem is beyond my wisdom to solve. You are the victim of the mistake you made in marrying the wrong man. It is tragically true that we have to pay an even price for our mistakes than we do for our sins.

Out of the tens of thousands of letters I get every year from unhappy married men and women, I get one of them every day. I married too young. They married when they were girls and boys before they had any time of life. Before they were ready to assume the responsibilities of life they had entered into the freedom of a grown-up man or woman. Then, like you, they found that they were tired of being married. There is nothing but heartache and misery for them. They were married, but matrimony had just pulled upon them, and they didn't want to be tied down to heartaches and one particular mad woman.

DOROTHY DIX—They were weary of the domestic life.

They wanted to feel themselves free to go and come as they pleased, to play around with other youngsters, to live their own lives, to do as they pleased.

So your case is not uncommon. Divorce seems a rather cowardly solution of the problem, because it is easier to make your good husband suffer for your mistake. Perhaps it is in the broad-minded and very wise, he would let you go away for a while and have some of the freedom you crave and you might find out that it isn't the joy you think it is and be glad to come back to him.

But at any rate get busy about something. Try to create your own better, for you could not have had much schooling if you married at 15. Get interested in a hobby and cause. And above all, guard your heart against falling in love with some other man. That is the worst danger that always lies in wait for disappointed women and husbands.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—I am 17 and planning to elope with a young man 21. My parents and I don't get along very well together and they don't want me to marry this man because of his different nationality and religion. Do you think we should make a different nationality in opposition to my parents? Don't you think we could make a success of marriage even though our religion is different?

BROWN EYES

Answer:—If you children elope, what are you going to live on after you get married? Have you thought of that? And have you thought what a very few children pay for their parents when they run away and elope? Have you thought of the back home for their parents to support them?

Encourage that natural wave in children's hair by using a finger-waving lotion and finger-waving the hair. Even children as young as three years like to have their hair wavy and it will dry quickly and stay in place if you tie a veil over the head and use invisible hairpins to set the waves while drying.

R. S. G. Harper (right) beats Lord Burghley (next) over the hurdles in the final of the 120-yard race at Stamford Bridge, where Polytechnic Harriers staged their Kinniard trophy meeting, recently.

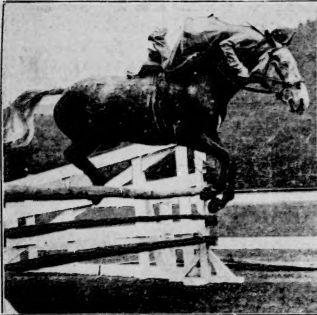

Approximately 1,000 "white" Russians are training at Shanghai for defense—just in case. Here we see the volunteers (paid by the settlement authorities) marching in review, deadly looking bayonets glinting.

The beautiful temple of Isis on the submerged island of Philae, marooned when Egypt's Assuan dam was heightened in 1912, will disappear completely at high water because of further dam heightening now in progress.

Gen. Kurt Von Schleicher, potent army chief of the German Reichswehr, is said to have designs on the seats of the mighty — hopes to establish a dictatorship.

A forced landing was made by Miss Eve Mortimer, riding in the novice hunters event at Tuxedo, N.Y., when the mount, Bar Maid, spilled her. The show was held in aid of local charities.

When two R.A.F. planes collided in mid-air over Sussex Downs, Pilot Jackson was killed. The other officer, Pilot Chatterton, jumped and was saved by his parachute.

It must be tough to be interviewed by charming Tallulah Bankhead and unable to say a word, but Shri Meher Baba, "holy man" from India, will soon break his seven years silence to broadcast at Hollywood and then, oh, boy!

Seven times a winner is Sam Ferris of the Royal Air Force, who again led the pack in the marathon run from Windsor to London—26 miles. Two admiring colleagues "chair" him.

A chip off the old blockie is this tiny London chap. He caught the Derby fever from his dad and equipped himself with soapbox, chart, parasol and what not. Here we see him shouting the odds.

When Baby Bryan was born in Brooklyn a few days ago, doctors noticed a serious hernia-appendix condition, administered a slight anaesthetic and operated. It is the first time such an operation has been performed with lasting success.

This pretty and unusual picture taken at the farm of Dr. Owen, Philadelphia police surgeon, shows the twin thoroughbreds of Nona. The filly is a chestnut and the colt a bay.

Strange is the case of John Mellish of Geneva, Illinois, jailed for indiscretion. He's an expert grinder of telescope lenses so astronomers get him out to work each day.

Don Pedro Rico's word carries weight in Madrid! Fact is, the rotund mayor of Madrid, Spain, is one of the weightiest chief magistrates in the world. We see him paying off a London cabman while visiting.

Limbering up the "dogs." The former Toronto colored boxer, Larry Gains, outpointed the man-mountain, Primo Camera, in a recent fight. Here we see Camera and Don McCorkindale beating grayhounds over hurdles at White City.

After an exhaustive tour of their show, the Prince of Wales addressed 7,000 members of the National Farmers' Union at Yeovil on the future success of British farming. We see the mayor presenting H.K.H. with six pairs of gloves.
